

Conditions for admission to a full-time three-year bachelor degree study programme "Biomedical and clinical technology" in the English language for the academic year 2018-2019

The condition for admission to study is due completion of a secondary or a secondary vocational education. Every applicant has to pass the admission procedure. The admission procedure consists of an entrance examination and submission of the secondary school graduation certificates including the validation clause concerning recognition of the foreign education in the Czech Republic (detailed info is available on the address here). The applicants shall submit an authenticated copy of their secondary/high school diploma and a certified copy of the transcript of subjects, translated into English (i.e. secondary school diploma with a diploma supplement) or a certificate of successful passing of the school leaving examination. The translation into the English language has to be done by a sworn translator. Applicants, who at the time of their application have not completed their studies yet, shall submit their secondary school diploma additionally and in person but no later than by the 24th September 2018. Any documents submitted later shall be disregarded. The maximum number of students admitted to the study programme is 40; the minimum number for opening a programme is one student. The Dean of the faculty shall specify the tuition fee in a contract with the student. Its amount will comply with the valid issue of the CTU Status art. 11 and Enclosure No. 5 to the CTU Status.

Study branch Biomedical Technician – full-time study - basic knowledge and understanding of mathematics, physics, chemistry and biology is expected.

Entrance examination in English consists of a motivation letter and an examination of proficiency in English.

Motivation letter

Applicants interested in the Biomedical and clinical technology programme (study branch Biomedical Technician) should be aware of the fact that the motivation letter plays an important role in the admission procedure. The motivation letter gives the Admission Committee relevant clues concerning the suitability of a candidate. Candidates are advised to address at least the following issues:

- Why do you choose Biomedical and clinical technology as the main subject of your bachelor studies?
- Why do you want to study the Biomedical and clinical technology programme (study branch Biomedical Technician) in particular, rather than other comparable programmes?
- Why do you want to study a programme that is specifically aimed at preparation and training for the subsequent clinical practice?
- Why do you think that you are a suitable candidate?
- How will you fit in a group of students from all over the world, all with different backgrounds?
- What are your plans after you get your bachelor degree?

Length of the motivation letter: 500 words maximum.

Proficiency in English

The ability to communicate effectively in English, both in written and in oral forms is required. This will be verified by a Skype interview based on a previously announced schedule (23th April – 27th April 2018 / 14th May – 18th May 2018).

Application forms for the bachelor full-time study programme Biomedical and clinical technology in the study branch Biomedical Technician must be filled in electronically on web page <http://prihlaska.cvut.cz> (choose the English version) and it must be submitted in printed form either in person or through post too. The last day to accept application forms for the academic year 2018/2019 is 29st March 2018 until 15:00 (CET) in case of personal delivery to the officer of the study department of CTU FBME. In case of sending the document by post, the date on the stamp must be 31st March 2018 at the latest. Applications submitted or sent later shall be disregarded. All other information is available at the study department of the FBME CTU (nám. Sítná 3105, 272 01 Kladno, Czech Republic, phone: +420 224 358 497, e-mail: jirotver@fbmi.cvut.cz, web: <http://en.fbmi.cvut.cz/students/bachelor-study>).

The electronic application form must be printed out, signed and sent to the study department (contact above). Condition for inclusion of the printed application to the admission procedure is fully completed and signed application form with a proof of payment of the administrative fee and the medical certificate. The administrative fee for the admission procedure is CZK 650, - in case of the electronic application. The fee can be paid by postal order type A, wire transfer or by a payment card online directly in the electronic application to study through the payment gateway. Bank connection: Komerční banka Praha 6, account number 27-7380010287/0100, IBAN: CZ2601000000277380010287, Swift Code: KOMBCZPP. Use the number 77777 as a variable symbol and use your application number as a specific symbol. The administrative fee is not refundable under any circumstances.

Approved by the Academic Senate of the FBME CTU on 31th October 2017.

prof. MUDr. Ivan Dylevský, DrSc.
Dean of FBME CTU